As per the records of the Centralized Processing Cell (TDS), it has been observed that the Accounts Office Identification Number (AIN) has not been mentioned in the TDS statements submitted in few cases.

What is AIN and its relevance:

AIN is a unique seven digit number allotted by NSDL, to the Pay and Accounts Office (PAO), District Treasury Office (DTO) or Cheque Drawing and Disbursing Office (CDDO). It is mandatory for the PAO / CDDO / DTO to have an AIN.

Why is AIN important to be quoted in TDS Statement:

- Quoting of AIN in TDS Statement facilitates complete reporting and results into correct mapping of the TAN with the AIN
- The AIN details in Form 24G, filed by the PAO / CDDO / DTO forms part of G-OLTAS database. CPC (TDS) processes TDS statements on the basis of information contained in G-OLTAS

In view of the above, it is requested to provide AIN details in point 2(b) of the Forms 24Q and 26Q of the TDS Statements.
